

EDINBURGH

EXCITING EDINBURGH

With its world famous castle, festivals, and excellent reputation it's easy to see why so many incentive groups choose Edinburgh as a destination.

The combination of the Medieval old town, the Georgian new town and the city's proximity to the Scottish countryside / coastline offers a fantastic backdrop for truly memorable incentive trips.

WHY VISIT?

Edinburgh has it all - history, heritage, great hotels, amazing activities and excellent venues.

It's great for groups that are keen to learn about Scottish history and heritage amongst fun activities, walking tours and trips out of the city to see other parts of Scotland.

BEST FOR

The capital city has a great selection of restaurants and bars, many of which are hidden within the Old Town and city vaults.

There is a fantastic range of accommodation options for groups of all different sizes - but be aware, in high season, it can be expensive!

EXCLUSIVE

The group could participate in one of our unique 'gent's meetings', where they learn how to wear the kilt.

Then, we create a 'piper parade', where the group - lead by a piper in full Scottish dress - march through the city to their gala venue. This is always a magical final night experience!
